Nominations Are Open for the Board of Governors

It is time once again for all members to nominate candidates to run in the upcoming election as members of the AGMA Board of Governors.

Every member in good standing should participate in this election so that all members may be properly represented on the Board.

Members may nominate their choices for candidates by petition requiring at least ten signatures of members in good standing as of February 1, 1994.

Petitions for members of the Board of Governors are included on this issue of AGMAzine. They are due in the National Office in New York City by February 19, 1994.

The franchise to nominate and vote is an empty right unless exercised. AGMA cannot continue to be a democratic organization, run by membership, unless you, the members, actively participate in the election process.

Following is a list of those Board members, by area, whose terms expire in 1994, as well as a breakdown of the membership by category in each area:

New York Area

Twelve Solo Singers: Martina Arroyo, Claudia Catania, John Darrenkamp, J.B. Davis, Hilda Harris, William Fleck, William Ledbetter, Judith Otten, Joseph Sophier, Luigi Vellucci, Louise Wohlafka, Don Yule

Greetings from the National Executive Secretary

Happy New Year! AGMA is embarking on some new directions at the beginning of this year which we believe will carry us successfully into the future. The Board of Governors is in the process of appointing members nationwide to its new committees. This is part of an overall effort to streamline our operations and to make the union more inclusive of and more responsive to our national membership.

In an effort to include more participation in the operations of the Board of Governors, we are attempting to expand the teleconferencing of the bi-monthly meetings. Extensive telephonic communications are expensive, but we feel it is extremely important to hear the concerns and constructive input of our board members. AGMA has been cognizant of the economic downturn that we've all been facing and has taken internal steps to see that in managing our everyday business, the union incurs only expenses that are vital to our progress and future.

These measures will insure that our membership derives the most benefit as we collectively ride out this downturn. We look toward a reinvigorated economy and renewed appreciation of the salutary impact of the Arts on education, values, communications, the economy itself, indeed—upon every aspect of our lives.

AGMA's prospects for the New Year are exciting and auspicious. My very best to all members, delegates, representatives, local executive committee members, Board members, staff, and friends.

(AGMA Benefit Concert, Carnegie Hall, February 20, 1938)
"...There is certainly no doubt that the thousands of people who filled Carnegie Hall on February 20th enjoyed it to the utmost, and the enjoyment of the Artists who took part in the programme was evident from the sparkle and brilliance of each one's performance."

Jascha Heifetz and Lawrence Tibbett backstage before the AGMA gala.

...in 1964

(Reprinted from Variety magazine, May 27, 1964, on the 10th anniversary of Brown vs. Board of Education and Leontyne Price's first appearance in Atlanta)
"...A few years ago, when Leontyne Price was first creating such a sensation at the Metropolitan Opera in New York, one of the Met executives was asked when Atlantans would get to hear her.

"When she can ride in an unsegregated taxi from the airport and stay in an unsegregated hotel and eat in an unsegregated restaurant," he replied.

"These things have come to pass now, more or less...And so, last Thursday night, 5,000 people had the chance to judge Miss Price for themselves...In a decade of attending Met performances here, I cannot recall a comparable explosion of applause...As I listened to that hauntingly beautiful presentation, I thought: This is the real story of racial progress in America...this is what the struggle is about...The chance for the individual to be judged on ability, not accident of birth, is what the racial struggle concerns at its heart. It will not be solved alone by law."

...in 1968

"...AGMAans in good number turned out for the New York City Labor Day parade September 2nd, garbed in costumes from Mozart operas, contributed for the occasion by Herman Krawitz of the Metropolitan Opera Association. A call for volunteers was issued by AGMA...pointing out that in a national election year, it is important for both political parties to realize that organized labor has legislative objectives that need to strengthen the labor movement and the American community."

AGMA members march in the annual Labor Day parade in costumes lent by the Metropolitan Opera.
What Has AGMA Done For Me...Lately?
Thomas Jamerson
Assistant to the National Executive Secretary

There is a very important clause in every Individual Artist's Contract which is referred to as the "Pay or Play" clause. This clause means that the Artist signing the contract is guaranteeing to the Company that he or she will perform the duties outlined in the contract (the "play" part) and at the same time, the company is guaranteeing that it will pay for the Artist's time with fees outlined in the agreement (the "pay" part) so long as the Artist is ready willing and able to perform as provided in the Employment Agreement. This guarantee renders the contract non-cancelable. As an example, should the company not be pleased with the way a particular Artist portray's a role or should the company change their mind about a particular production to be presented and not be able to utilize the contracted Artist in that different production by mutual agreement, the company can not unilaterally cancel the agreement. They must live up to their guarantee of compensation and pay the full face value of the agreement or come to an agreement with the Artist and AGMA to satisfy the contract in some other way. Likewise, the Artist cannot decide to cancel an agreement with one company to take another contract with another company which might be a little better in terms without mutual agreement between the parties involved, including AGMA.

It should be noted that there is a condition referred to as "Force Majeure" which could supersede this "Pay or Play" clause. This is a condition which is not within the control of the Artist or the Company which causes either party to be unable to fulfill the terms of the agreement. It is loosely referred to as an "Act of God". Verifiable illness of the Artist or a fire which destroys the theater in which the Company performs might be considered Force Majeure.

This Pay or Play clause has assisted many Artists over the years. In most instances the companies automatically honor the contract but occasionally it is breached. In these cases, the union has been able to successfully argue the case in an arbitration hearing. As an example, an Artist was recently awarded $42,000 under this clause. In fact, within the past 8 years the Pay or Play clause has earned awards of over a quarter of a million dollars to AGMA Artists. AGMA will not discuss these cases nor use the names of the companies or the Artists involved respecting the parties' confidentiality.

This explanation of the "Pay or Play" clause is only a brief outline and should not be considered all encompassing. To discuss all of the various subtleties would take pages. Obviously, this clause has benefited AGMA Artists very well and will continue to do so. Just one more way AGMA is able to protect its members.

"...within the past 8 years the Pay or Play clause has earned awards of over a quarter of a million dollars to AGMA Artists..."

The deadline for reservations is February 15, 1994.

Principal Artist’s Health Plan Update

In the newsletter sent last month, the list of opera companies contributing to the new Principal Artist’s Health Plan (Plan B) contained the names of a few companies which contribute to the AGMA Health Fund on a different basis. To clarify this, it should be stated that the New York City Opera and its National Company as well as the Western Opera Theater contribute a full year’s coverage for their Employees who work full time.

Fe Opera all contribute the full premiums to the AGMA Health Fund for the qualifying Artists employed by these companies. The Santa Fe Opera contribute for the months their Artists are employed where the New York City Opera and its National Company as well as the Western Opera Theater contribute a full year’s coverage for their Employees who work full time.

In-House Fund Raising: In-house fund raising for the years ended September 30, 1993 and 1992 includes the Development Coordinator’s salary and other expenses such as mailings, printing, and special projects.

The Fund’s complete Financial Statements drawn by the Accountants are available for inspection at the AGMA office. Copies will be provided on request.
Sandra Warfield in an Evening of Cabaret to Benefit the AGMA Relief Fund

The one-hundred five year-old Players Club on Gramercy Park provided the atmospheric setting for a delightful and fun-filled evening of cabaret with Sandra Warfield on Friday, December 10, 1993. Ms. Warfield had just returned from a smashing success two hour, one-woman show at the Bernhardt Theatre in Zurich, Switzerland.

The evening began with a lovely cocktail hour at which guests mingled and explored the interesting nooks and crannies of the private club, steeped in theatrical history.

The Relief Fund was honored to have Regina Resnik, President of AGMA and Chairman of the Relief Fund Board of Trustees, speak to guests about the program and services provided by the Fund, and of the ever-increasing needs of classical performing artists. Ms. Resnik then introduced her long-time friend and colleague, Sandra Warfield McCracken, who entered the stage singing a jazzy version of Carmen.

The exciting cabaret program varied from songs of Cole Porter, Noel Coward, and Poulenc, to “Hard to be a Diva, Baby” by Barry Keating, as well as selections by Jerry Herman, Kurt Weill and William Bolcom. At the close of the fifty-minute act, with the crowd applauding for more, Ms. Warfield did an encore of a West African folk song, “Everybody Loves Saturday Night”, sung in four languages! The room was filled with the voices of our guests joining Ms. Warfield in this rousing rendition.

Thanks to Sandra Warfield, and the caring participation of many generous individuals who made contributions to the AGMA Relief Fund, this warm and wonderful evening brought the Fund over $10,000!!

Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS Recognizes the AGMA Relief Fund AIDS Program

The AGMA Relief Fund AIDS program has again been acknowledged by Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS, an organization that has raised and distributed millions of dollars to AIDS service organizations across the country.

As an incentive to our members to join hands in supporting the services of the Fund, Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS has encouraged the Fund to advertise their contributions as matching grants. To date, we have received $12,000 - $3,000 short of our membership fund raising goal.

With the support of Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS, our members, and individuals and organizations who care about the arts, the Relief Fund is able to provide financial assistance to artists with AIDS and those testing HIV positive. The Fund helps pay for medical bills, rent and other essential living expenses. Additionally, the Relief Fund staff provides support services, assistance in making career transitions, family and health counseling, referral for other sources of treatment, support groups, volunteer programs and generally offers comfort when spirits are low.

We are grateful for the donations which we continue to receive through our membership appeal and would like to encourage those who haven’t already done so to give whatever they can toward helping us to reach our $15,000 membership fund-raising goal. THANK YOU!!!

AGMA Emergency Relief Fund

A Small Gesture...A Great Gain

I would like to share a wonderful gift giving idea with you. For the past several productions that I have worked on, instead of giving flowers, candy, small gifts, etc. to those involved, I have made a contribution in the cast and crew's name to the AGMA Relief Fund. Posting an announcement on the call board has elicited a strong and positive response from all. People who already knew of the Relief Fund, or those not yet aware of its various programs, have either contributed to it, or perhaps utilized the Fund in time of need.

The staff at the AGMA Relief Fund can notify people by mail for you, or perhaps supply a notice to post backstage. I hope you will consider this option whenever appropriate to the situation. A small gift can in reality do so much.

Have You Moved?

Sending your AGMA notices, announcements, AGMAzine and other Guild documents to wrong addresses is costly and wasteful. Please be certain that AGMA has your correct address in its files. If you have moved recently and have not notified AGMA of your new address, please do so at once.

A separate change of address should go to the AGMA Pension and Health Fund, as well.

Planned Giving Ideas and Bequests to Benefit the AGMA Relief Fund

Our counsel, Mortimer Becker, Esq. is pleased to offer his services, free of charge, in advising and preparing a will that can be used to make bequests to the AGMA Relief Fund.

Recently, the AGMA Relief Fund has been named in the wills of some of our members. Bequests of this nature are a humanitarian way in which to provide critical support to the Relief Fund's efforts in these difficult economic times.

Information and assistance is also available to prepare a planned giving document. For instance, with a Charitable Remainder Trust you can benefit the AGMA Relief Fund, retain a lifetime income, and provide for the future of your loved ones.

For more information, please call Mr. Becker at (212) 541-7070.

What's In A Name?

It is a common practice for performers to use a variety of professional names, for their own good reasons. But unless AGMA members notify the AGMA Membership Department about the various names by which they are known, considerable confusion results. Please take a moment to write or phone the National Office to register with the Membership Department each name by which you are known. It's in your best interest.

Employee vs. Independent Contractor

It has been seriously suggested that those of our members who are Directors may properly be recognized by the IRS as Independent Contractors.

The suggestion is valid in any instance in which the relationship of the Director with the "employer" meets the tests set up by the IRS. As always, check with a qualified tax consultant for the latest rulings on this subject before filing.
